Safeguarding Statement

The ethos of the Summer Youth Production is to provide young people from all backgrounds from across Northern Ireland with the opportunity to perform on Northern Ireland’s largest and oldest stage, and learn the skills and disciplines required to be part of the performing arts industry.

The health, safety and welfare of all the young people involved in the project is paramount. The Theatre ensures that all risk assessments are completed, Health & Safety checks carried out and that the adults working on the project have had the appropriate Access NI Checks. It is also important that all participants have respect and understanding for the safety and welfare of others during the production, and as such, any behaviour that could put others at risk of harm – including bullying or harassment – will be deemed unacceptable.

The production offers young people an exciting opportunity where they can learn new things in a safe, positive and fun environment.
